congreect for attendees

By using congreect you can utilize events even more effectively in the future. In addition to interesting presentations, networking with other visitors is top priority at B2B events. Just as the contents of the lectures were specifically selected in advance, congreect helps you to identify interesting networking partners even before the actual event. This way you can use the breaks to talk to participants who share the same interests.

As an attendee, you can make your profile appealing with only a few entries. By selecting thematically matching keywords, interesting participants are in the spotlight in no time at all.

BEST OF ALL,
outside the application, your data is inaccessible. Only registered participants will see your interests and profile information. In general, your participation in the event will not be communicated to the outside world.

How it works

Simply follow the invitation you received from the organizer.

Registration is simple and free of charge. In your profile, you can add information about your company and your professional position. Keywords provided by the organizer can be selected to enable identifying other interesting participants. Easy with just a few clicks.

The matching algorithm, developed specifically for this purpose, automatically brings you together with relevant and high-quality business contacts.

congreect allows you to contact others directly and make an appointment on-site. Easy networking!

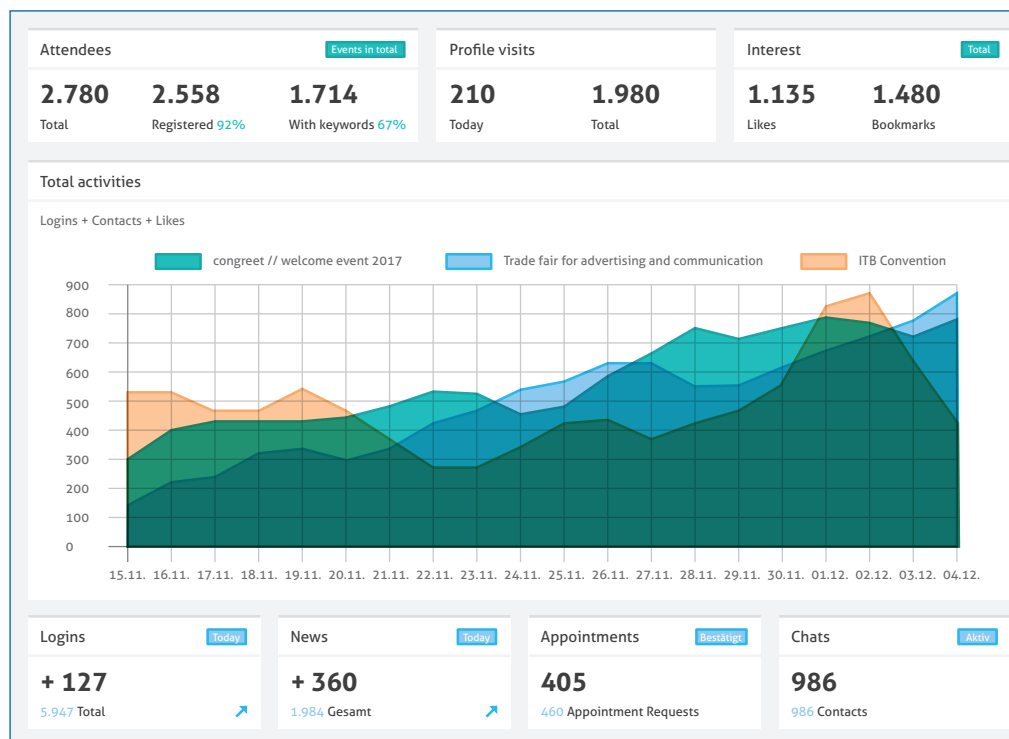

congreect for organizers

You are offering your participants an invaluable added value using congreect. The satisfaction of the attendees has a positive effect on the number of visitors to the next event – one-time visitors become returning customers.

Not only do you allow your participants to contact other interesting event visitors, but you also receive valuable information about topics that are important to your visitors. Visitor profiles can be supplemented with interesting insights. In addition, live statistics can be used to identify important networks and topics of interest to the target group.

Participants have a positive return from entering their data. As a result, you as the organizer will receive more valuable information about your participants. This allows you to plan future events more targeted.

Live statistics at a glance

How it works

In the Web interface, an event can be created quickly and easily.

Define keywords that are relevant to all participants.

The participants are invited via CSV-import or via a Web-form. As soon as the invitation mails have been sent, the networking can begin.

Live statistics give important insights into which topics are important for the participants and which people are valuable for the event.

Think of your participants.

When planning your event, think of those for whom you organize the event.

With congreet easy networking!

easy & secure

The German Data Protection Act is the strictest in the world. We follow that. Your data is safe with us. And the entire process corresponds to the requirements that data protection officers in Germany demand.

easy community

Profile data and interests are only visible to registered attendees of the particular event. Attendee and organizer profiles are not searchable with Google. You decide for yourself what information you want to provide to others.

This is what we guarantee!

How congreet came to life

Out of a disappointment. Too many events, too few qualified contacts. We have visited many business events in our professional past. But good contacts have rarely been made by chance. After ample consideration to improve the networking situation at events, we knew what could help us. A network that makes it possible to get to know relevant participants before the event and to filter their interests.

And so, the idea of congreet was born.

A software package, designed to be exactly tailored to the networking for events. Consisting of a browser-based solution and a smartphone app for attendees. And – of course – a back-end for the management functions for organizers.

We wanted to make one thing possible – easy networking!
